

Hounslow Hospitality Training and Employment Project Summer 2011

Do you live in London Borough of Hounslow?
Do you want to work in the Hospitality industry?
Are you looking for work now?

If you answered YES to all three questions, you can take advantage of this FREE opportunity to support you into work.

Uxbridge College will:

- give you a place on a short Hospitality Customer Service training course accredited by the Institute of Hospitality
- improve your chances of securing work in the Hospitality Industry through employability training covering: job search, CV writing, online application forms, interview and presentation skills, confidence and motivation to find and start work
- show you how you could be financially better off by working
- give you access to job vacancies that are not advertised anywhere else.
